

To become a Fellow of the European Academy of Sciences, the candidate must be nominated by a Fellow of EurASc. The nominator must complete this form and provide, together with the completed nomination form (please see below), the following documents – merged into a single PDF:

- Nomination Form; (1 page)
- A letter of nomination*; (1 or 2 pages)
- A recent CV of the candidate ; (Maximum 5 pages)
- A list of the 10 most important publications of the candidate, including their number of citations (as indicated by Web of Science or Google Scholar); (1 page)
- 1 or 2 letters of support* (at least one of which should be from a Fellow of EurASc). (Maximum 2 pages each)

* The nominator cannot write the letters of support; this means that the candidate has to be nominated by one Fellow member of EurASc and supported by, at least, one other member of EurASc. - This rule applies to Fellow or Foreign Fellow nomination. For Foreign Fellow nomination, the nominator(s) must present clear evidence of a strong and sustained collaboration and working links with European institutions and centres of scholarship. The award of honours by European institutions and periods of residence at European centres will provide additional evidence of such links (such as substantive positions held, honorary Professorships and visiting Professorships). For Honorary Fellow nomination the nominator must indicate that the nominee has received a prestigious international award such as the Nobel Prize, Fields Medal, Wolf Prize, Abel Prize, or similar.

If one of these documents is missing, the nomination will be considered invalid. The total length of these documents, when merged into a single PDF, should not exceed 13 pages. Nominations should be submitted in the personal area of each member. However, the traditional method of sending nomination forms to the contact@eurasc.eu mailbox will still be available for those who prefer it.

Additional documents (such as a citation report, a short bio, a complete list of publications, etc.) only if to include information of excellence - maximum of 5 pages.
